COURSE DESCRIPTION (NOTE: ALL CLASSES OFFERED ARE "LIVE", NOT VIRTUAL)

1. ACT Diagnostic Test

We start with the diagnostic test to get you a starting score and assess your personal strengths and weaknesses.

2. ACT English

Your job on the english test is to grade the essays based on the content of the essay and the grammar. We'll review all the grammar tested and show you specific strategies you can employ in order to make more educated guesses. For example: did you know that the ACT tends to use too many commas and the best guess is often the answer choice that has no punctuation at all! We'll also show you the toughest and the most obscure grammar rules tested, including colons and dashes.

3. ACT Math

We'll show you the most common topics tested – everything from slope to matrices to combinations and permutations, and any formulas or rules you'll need to know or have on your calculator. And we'll show you how to use a multiple choice math test to your advantage. We'll demonstrate how the ACT math test is different than a school math test by focusing on the types of questions you don't typically see in a high school classroom.

4. ACT Reading

Since you already know how to read, this class focuses more on technique. Do you read the entire passage? Do you skim the passage? We'll demonstrate different strategies to help you finish on time and understand each type of passage. There's a different approach to a fiction passage versus a social studies passage, and there's certain types of questions commonly asked on each type that you'll be ready for!

5. ACT Science

Imagine being employed to write a science test that doesn't actually test science! Well that's what the ACT has managed to do. This is the section of the test most different from anything you've done in school. We'll show you the different types of passages and strategies for each. We'll show you how to finish on time, and we'll especially focus on the types of questions they like to ask.

6. English II, Math II, Reading II, Science II (Extra sessions in the 11-session course vs. the 7 session course)

In these sessions we fine tune each student's technique and, with math and english, we're able to focus on more of the content tested. In addition, we provide guided practice. We'll practice a section of the test and then score and discuss it.

OUR NEW DIGITAL SAT COURSE!

These courses are for the digital SAT that begins in March, 2024 and the PSAT beginning in October, 2023.

What we do in a class:

1. SAT Diagnostic Test

We start with the diagnostic test to get you a starting score and assess your personal strengths and weaknesses. Since the digital SAT is adaptive, you'll find out if your score on the first module is high enough to get you the tougher second module.

2. Conventions of English

Each question pertaining to conventions of English will present two or three sentences with a blank. You choose the correct answer based on the grammar and, at times, the proper transition. We'll cover all the grammar they test - especially focusing on the more obscure rules. And, of course, we'll demonstrate strategies you can use to eliminate choices.

3. SAT Math

We'll show you the most common topics tested - everything from functions to parabolas. And we'll show you how to use a multiple choice math test to your advantage. We'll demonstrate how the SAT math test is different than a school math test by focusing on the types of questions you don't typically see in a high school classroom. This is the part of the new digital SAT most similar to the current SAT.

4. SAT Reading

The new digital SAT reading test has discarded long passages. The new format will present just a few sentences where you will choose, perhaps, the main idea of the passage or the function of an underlined sentence. There are various new question types, including some vocabulary-based questions, some poems, graphs and charts, fiction, and social studies and science. We'll delve into the various types and what sorts of questions you can expect as well as strategies for each type.

DIGITAL SAT/PSAT SNEAK PREVIEW ($100)

Sunday, October 1, 1pm to 3pm SAT Reading
Sunday, October 8, 1pm to 3pm SAT Math

If you're taking the PSAT as a Junior, you're invited to our sneak preview sessions. We'll show you examples of all the question types and demonstrate strategies designed for the new types of questions you'll see on the new Digital SAT and PSAT.
All materials included.
